July -
I never really knew you until this year & now I wouldn't trade your friendship for anything! We've really had some good times this year some experiences to second especially the slick guitar!! I sincerely hope that our friendship will continue to grow in the oncoming years & that we will have as much fun in the next two years as we've had all the luck in the world in everything you do!!!

Judy,
I'm so sorry
I didn't any classes with you except homeroom this year but I'll look forward to a better year next year. You're a wonderful girl with a marvelous personality, don't ever lose it
Good luck always

Judy,
This summer you may pass me without permission. I eat, huh?
Good luck, Bill

Judy!

Since you won't tell me what Dennis Hales said, I'll just have to assume. I doubt if you'll forget Jackson's geometry class & I doubt if any other person in the class will either. So, clod, I guess I'll see you next year. In the meantime, be good & don't do anything that I wouldn't do.

Judy,

What a fabulous evening. I'll never forget the "Dermuda Ball" dance and all those clowns and times that wonderful it was that I spent around just whether conversation or in goofin' off & wishing luck. I wished you wellers because we don't need it.

Love ya,

Judy,
 It seems like just yesterday that I first met you, and I know then that we would have a lot of good times together in the future. Sometimes we haven't seen eye to eye, but I guess we trail at times accompanies all good friendships. It seems I have poured out all my troubles to you, and you always listen with a glad heart. You're sweet, Judy. We've gone through a lot together Judy, that this matter applies to you, but I really have a lot of respect for you. Last, I didn't realize I had used so much space, better school! Best of luck on your exams and everything you ever do. You are one of the best, Debbie I have ever had, and I am excited to know you better down at Abita again.

Dear Judy -

Well little sis - I can hardly believe that it's all over, but I want you to know that I could never ever forget the sweetest and most wonderful girl in the Sophomore class. I'll never forget when I met you that first day in choir and you actually had to tell me that you lived just two houses away. Now I wish that we had been good friends before - but you can be sure that our friendship will last forever. Now can I ever forget our fabulous choir trips and how you and Debbie were so scared that we'd all be killed. We always made it though, and that reminds me of how glad I am that we got to stand together. I kept thinking of how awful it would be if we hadn't sat next to each other in choir - but we still would have gotten together in some way or another. You were always so sweet and understanding about all my troubles with Dail, and my only regret is that you don't like him. I'm sure you would though - because he's such a sweetie. I'll never forget how hard you and Barb worked to get us back together. It's funny Judy, but I've never really thought of you as a Sophomore, because I feel that we're every bit as close as I am with my C.S. buddies.

The Senior Class of Upper Arlington High School

I was so glad that we got to have our little tuck the night after the Spring Festival when we went all the way to Kollerland - just to see Becker play the drum. And I'll always remember the time you drove my car - I've never seen anything funnier in my life. We had such a riot with Penny - and I'll have you know that I think my little sis is the most quillible girl in the whole world - but you know I love her! Well sweetie, don't ever forget your big sis when you sing "God of our Fathers" and all the other songs we love so much. I'm sure that there could never be a narrator for "Song of Christmas" as good as my honey. So you just have to remember him when you sing it next Christmas and the Christmas after. Always be the wonderful girl that I know you are and please Judy, never ever hesitate to ask if you want or need anything cause you know I'd do anything for ya. Thanks

UPPER ARLINGTON SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

(Texas)
 Dear Judy,
 'Course you know how much I think of you & how I've had staying in your home & the wonderful time I've had the past year & I'm missed you'll come to see me some times. I hope you know how we Smiths'd love having you. I wish there was something I could write you of impressing how much I mean to me & will always have, you dearer than very best & if you should ever get one fraction below that, let me know who the trouble is & I'll "stomp" 'em."

Dedication

The class of 1960 has chosen to dedicate its yearbook to a person who has been closely associated with the Norwester for many years.

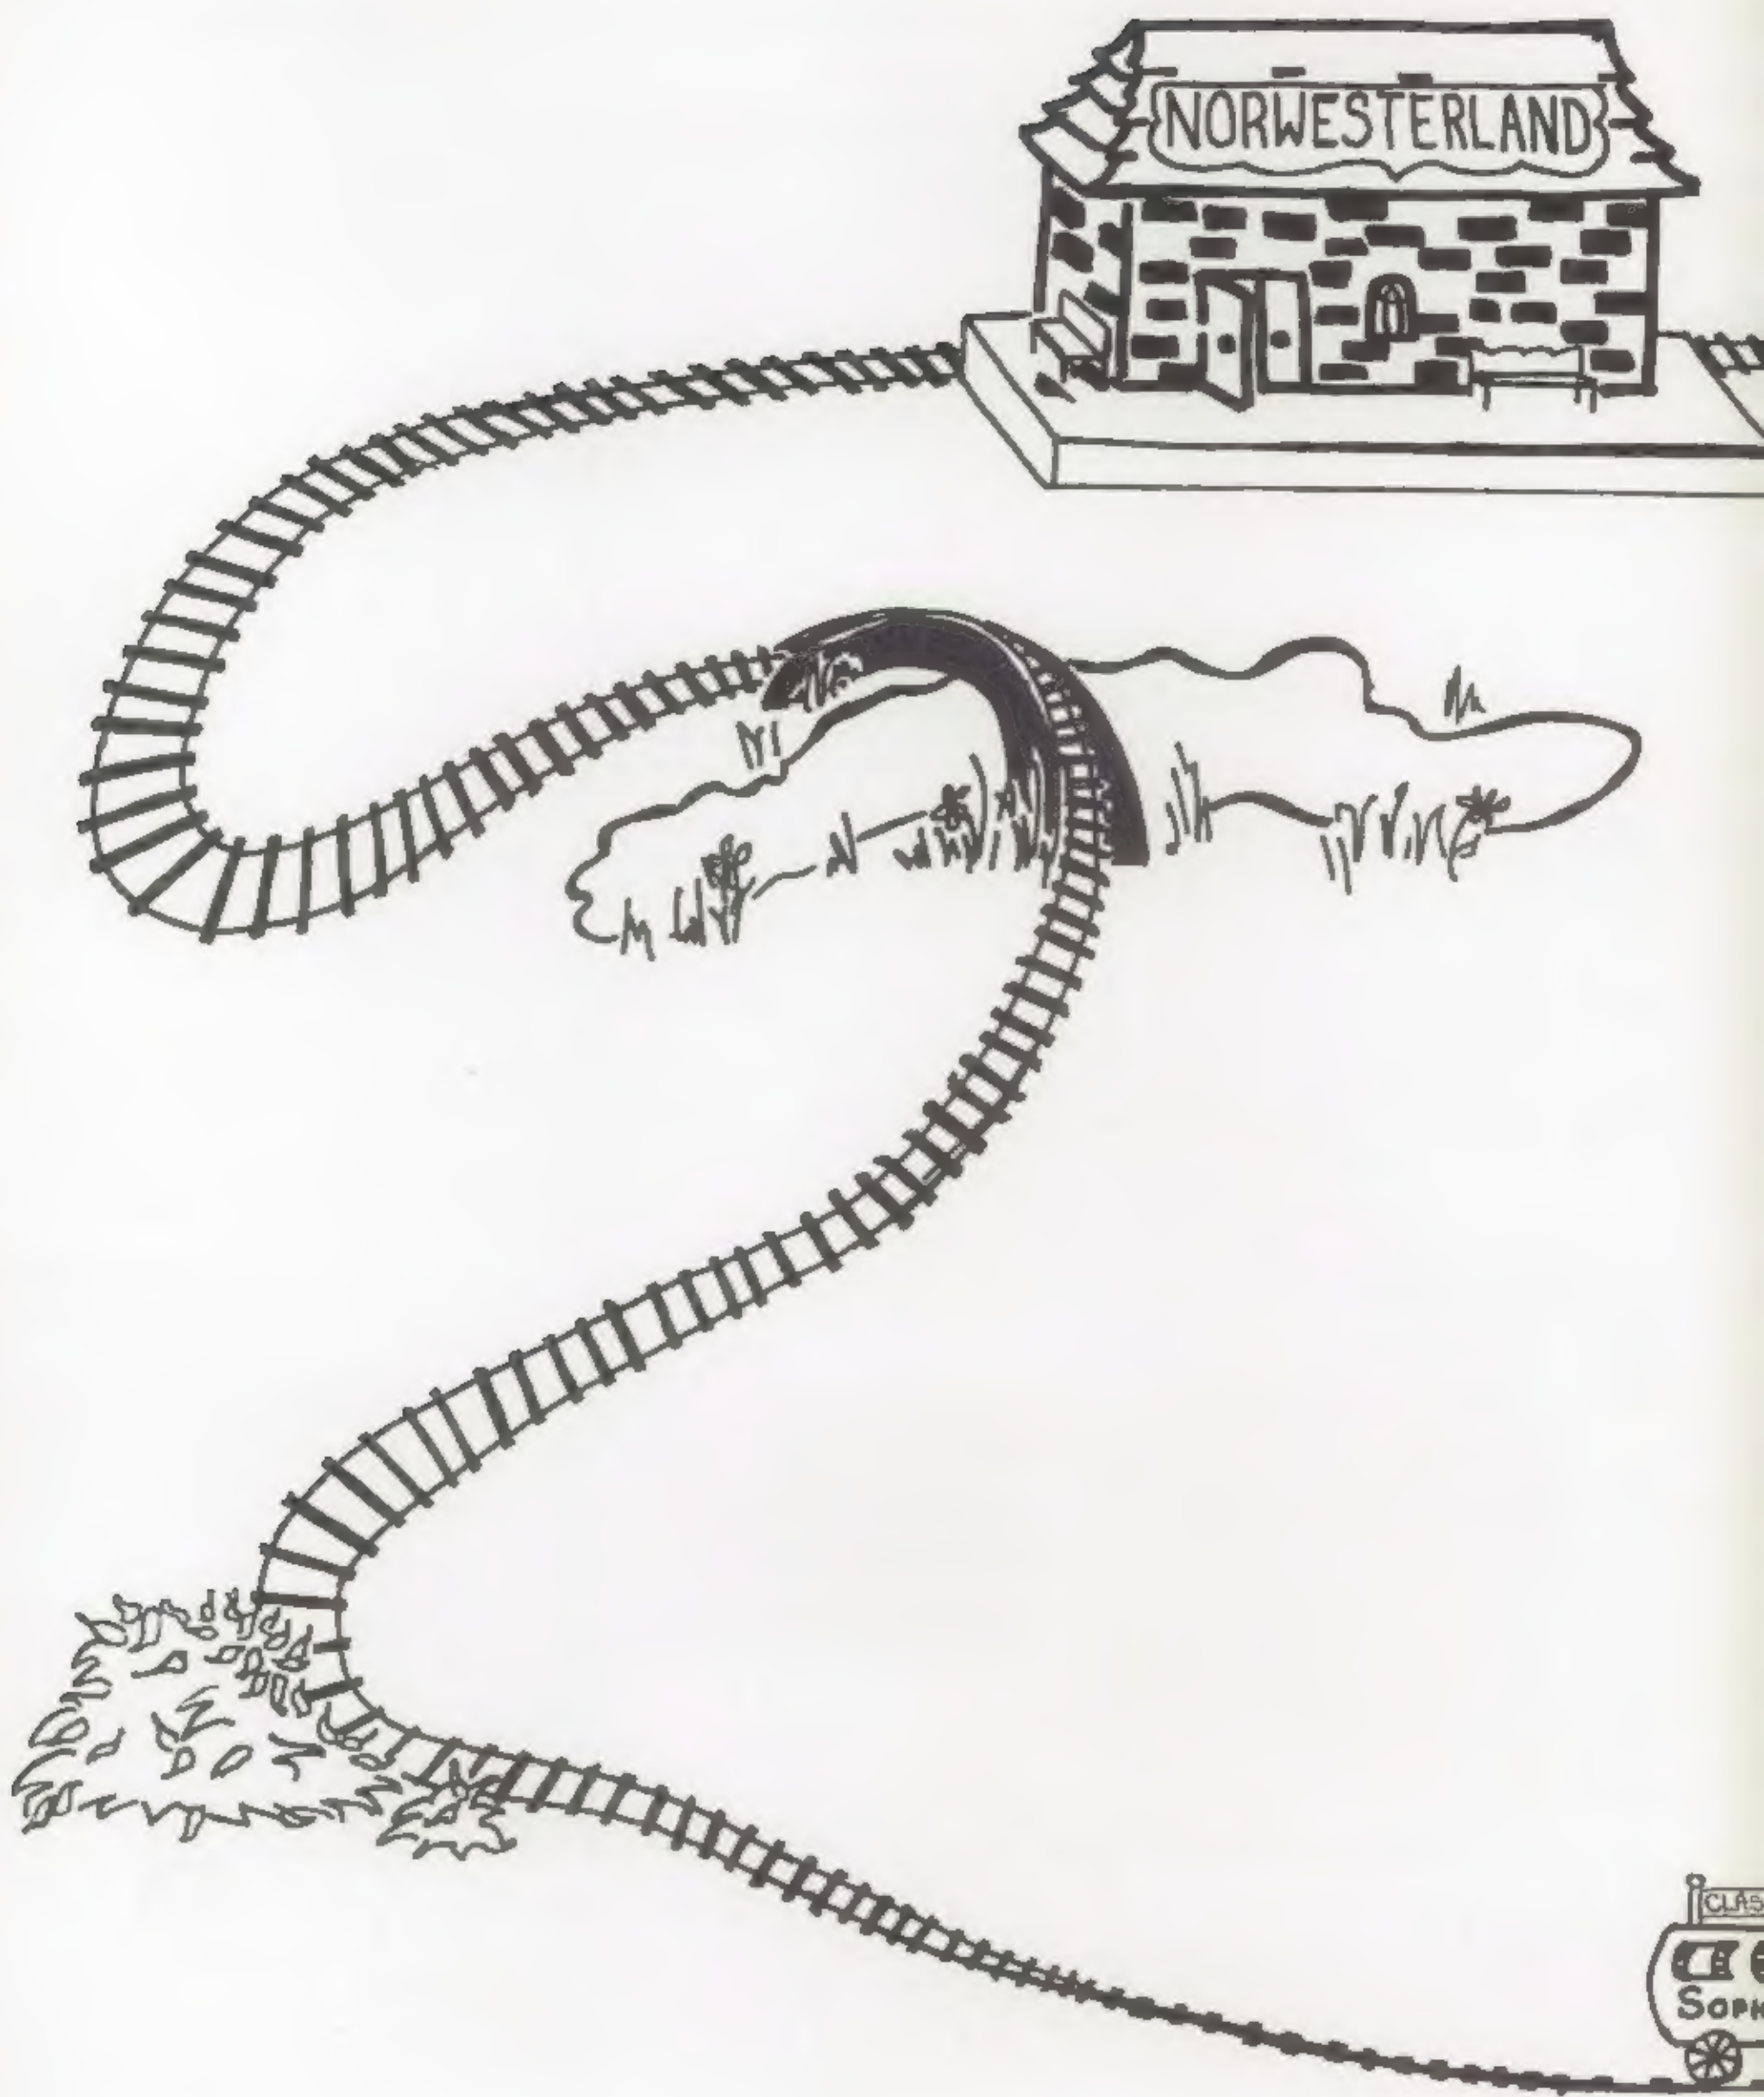

All those who know Miss Vera K. Randall appreciate her keen sense of humor, her dedication to her profession, her deep interest in all students, and her personal integrity. Not only as a teacher of English, but as Norwester adviser and as counselor, Miss Randall has worked unselfishly for her students.

Her sense of propriety and her modesty have precluded any public recognition of her in this manner; but acting without her knowledge and on behalf of all her students, the class of 1960 wishes to dedicate this book to Miss Vera K. Randall.

I 'spose 'bout now I should wish you lots of luck & all that jazz, but it'd really be a waste of time, I can only say - "I'm sure me & famous & continue to have ex-hausted patience (which I've already) So you're with & lives of others as brighten the "dore" as if too far Love - Some old Bob!

Miss Vera K. Randall

Foreword

Disneyland - A make-believe world of fantasy and fun! Our 1960 Norwester sends us whirling through one last fling at that fantasy and fun, for soon we seniors must face the reality of Tomorrowland. We're at the launching pad now ready to blast off. Whether we'll reach our destination or not depends upon the preparations we've made here. To those we leave behind, still venturing through Frontierland, we offer our triumphs as examples, our failures as warnings. Follow the Guides - they'll open a whole new frontier to you and show you the way to your Tomorrowland.

WALTER B. HEISCHMAN

The below are questions and answers from an interview between a Norwester reporter and Joseph A. Dorff, principal of Upper Arlington High School.

What should the ideal education give the student to prepare him for tomorrow?

"Education for tomorrow depends on one's interest and application today.

The American educational dream has always been equal opportunity for all to benefit from an educational program that should emphasize equally all education experiences in terms of academic excellence, technical and scientific knowledge, and a respect for our fellow-man through an understanding of the aesthetic and philosophical aspects of our daily life."

What should be the supreme adventure of high school days?

"The supreme adventure of high school days is the opportunity and thrill of experiencing to the fullest the many and varied avenues of learning available to youth of secondary school age. The classroom, the athletic field, and the group and class activities, together, provide a program that, if properly combined, make for the kind of well-rounded education that lays a proper foundation for life experiences to follow."

DAVID M. JONES

The below are questions and answers from an interview between a Norwester reporter and Walter B. Heischman, superintendent of the Upper Arlington school system.

What should the ideal education give the student to prepare him for tomorrow?

"Tomorrow is always uncertain. We know it will be different from today. It is impossible to prepare students by giving them a large amount of specific information which may never be used.

Things important for the future are those things which have proved of value in the past. Education should give students a background of knowledge of our usable skills and enable them to learn that anything worthwhile results from hard work and sacrifice. Individuals must learn to discipline themselves before they become mature persons. Schools should provide young people with situations where they can organize, think through and arrive at solutions to problems. Boys and girls must learn to live together as school citizens before they can expect to contribute things of a worthwhile nature to an adult society.

These are a few things which are important."

What should be the supreme adventure of high school days?

"To live life to its fullest, starting each morning with the anticipation of being a better person when evening comes, and at the same time taking full advantage and gaining greatest satisfaction from the most enjoyable period of human existence."

JOSEPH A. DORFF

The below are quotations and answers from an interview between a Norwester reporter and David M. Jones, assistant principal of Upper Arlington High School.

What should the high school offer the student to prepare him for tomorrow?

"High schools today are faced with an extremely complex job when considering the problem of what to offer students to prepare them for tomorrow. Basically, American high schools should provide opportunities for students to obtain skills in communication, arithmetic and scientific processes, and social understandings. The high school must provide for individual differences where students participate according to their need and perform according to their ability."

What should be the supreme adventure of high school days?

"The greatest adventure for the high school student should be one of discovery and accomplishment in both the educational and social areas of the student's life. The sense of satisfaction that accompanies these two elements should provide a basis for the greatest adventure of high school days."

Leaders Club

As Charlie Brown would say, "Good grief! Three vice-presidents!" However, in Leaders' Club these three work together and separately to co-ordinate the club's activities.

The club is divided into seven committees. Some projects are a result of one committee's work, while others are a combined effort. This year Leaders' Club sponsored a clothing drive, a sale of cashew nuts, a canned foods drive, a sale of Christmas wrapping paper, a Christmas party for under-privileged children at Godman Guild, the annual International Dinner, college panels for both the junior and senior high schools, the Leadership Training Conference, a Valentine party, and an Easter party.

Leaders' Club gives every member first-hand experience in the planning of projects of benefit to others.

This year Jim Turner served as president, assisted by Dennis Fales, first vice-president; Carol Sain second vice-president, Janet Nitschke, third vice-president; Bob Walker, secretary; and Sarah Hays, treasurer. Miss Margaret C. Shultz is the adviser.

A.C.E.

Any girl with a whoopee clutched between her teeth is undoubtedly a member of A.C.E. still hard at work on a fall project.

Not only did these gals sell whoopees, they washed cars, sponsored the Christmas formal with Key, each one sold four stuffed animals to benefit Dr. Tom Dooley in Laos, had a hayride - complete with campfire and songs, held a father-daughter banquet, gave a spread before the Whitehall game to boost school spirit, and had bake and cake sales.

It doesn't take much imagination to see that planning all these projects could have been a real headache. But the senior girls were efficiently led by Jenny Haymore, president; Janet Nitschke, vice-president; Judi Graber, secretary; Donna Hill, treasurer; Susie Dawson, representative to Leaders' Club; Carol Clay, sergeant-at-arms; Mary Jo Burt, social chairman; Susie DeLor, ways and means chairman; Cherie Stewart, publicity chairman; and Mrs. Anne Christy and Miss Marilyn Smith, advisers.

Key

In addition to making bean bags for the Children's Hospital, members of Key had a Christmas party for the children of Nightingale Cottage, held bake sales, participated in the canned foods drive, and sponsored the Christmas formal, "Heavenly Holiday," in collaboration with A.C.E.

Key offers any female member of the class of '61 an opportunity to participate in the service projects as well as in social functions. Working together in community service gives members a sense of co-operation, responsibility, and leadership.

Officers were Carolyn McCarty, president; Karen Hobbs, vice-president; Marcia Manning, treasurer; Judy Davis, secretary; Karen Klug, sergeant-at-arms; Debbie Munger, social chairman; Gwyn Baker, publicity chairman; and Sarah Aplin, ways and means chairman. Sarah Hays served as representative to Leaders' Club and Miss Betsy Ross served as adviser to the club.

W.H.Y.

The school year 1959-60 brought a brand new sophomore class to Arlington, and, following tradition, the girls of the new class promptly organized a class club.

After christening the new club W.H.Y. and collecting dues from the new members, the girls forged ahead with many social and service projects. From among the social activities, the hayride on November 28 was one of the most successful. The W.H.Y. girls also contributed to the success of the all-school spread before the Whitehall game by donating food and money. Caroling for Kinder Key and donating money to the "Adopt-a-Family" program were two of the club's most important service projects. These busy girls have other projects in mind, too, which they hope to carry out before they are graduated.

The executives of this up-and-coming club were Suzie Sharer, president; Evie McCoy, vice-president; Anne Krieger, secretary; Mimi Lowery, treasurer; Jane Cooper, social chairman; Sandy Fitzgerald, ways and means chairman; Betsy Patterson, telephone chairman; Lynn Huston, devotions; Pris Daugherty and Carol Farmer, art, and Carole Wollford, publicity. The sponsor was Mrs. Elizabeth Clifford.

Science Club

"Our regular program consists of a series of lectures and discussions by noted men in the community concerning scientific topics of general interest," stated Bruce Erickson, president of Science Club, when asked about the activities of that club. Included in this program during the year were such topics as dreams, mental telepathy, hypnotism, space travel, biochemistry, construction of a telescope, radiation in science, geology, a panel on science vs. engineering.

Two field trips were taken, one to Don Scott Field, and the other to the Wright Aeronautical Museum in Dayton.

The purpose of Science Club is twofold: to offer a science program of general interest to students of the natural sciences, and to offer a beginning to any group in the future, interested in science. Meetings were held every three weeks and membership was open to all students majoring or minoring in natural science.

Science Club attempts to introduce scientific investigation presently being conducted and the general principles of certain basic sciences to the student as an indication of the progress being made.

Officers this year were Bruce Erickson, president; Ann Morral, first vice-president; Karen Leininger, second vice-president; Tim Wilder, third vice-president; Priscilla Daugherty and Teresa Brown, secretaries; and Don Aue, treasurer. Robert Cavins served as adviser.

Radio Club

A new fixture on the high school grounds this year was the forty-foot tower for a directional antenna set up by the Radio Club.

The government considers high school radio clubs as an important source of capable radio operators and therefore provides valuable spectrum space for their use. If the need should arise, a large group of amateurs would be available for use in Armed Services communications.

The main purpose of Radio Club is to teach interested students electronics and amateur operating practices in general. The only requirement for membership is an interest in amateur radio.

Members who served as officers were president, Bill Hale; vice-president, Ron Magley; and secretary-treasurer, Ray Roop. Leon Bowman served as adviser.

Festo

Jack Frost has nothing on the members of Festo. To create a gay Christmas atmosphere for the school, they too wielded busy paint brushes during the winter months. Other projects for U.A.'s art club this year were the sponsoring of a basketball dance and spring art show.

Festo is dedicated to the appreciation of fine arts and membership is open to any interested student. The club tries to schedule four field trips a year to art departments of nearby colleges and art museums in the area. Thus the members of Festo are given several chances to observe artistic creations, not only in completed form, but also in the making.

Festo officers for the year 1959-60 were Bobby Butcher, president; Karen Krause, vice-president; Carolyn Francis, secretary; Diane Locey, treasurer; Martha Tuttle, representative to Leaders' Club and Mr. Hugh Stumbo, adviser.

Pub Club

Certainly in Arlington the "team behind the team" is Pub Club, for its members do all they can to support athletic events and arouse school spirit. Members of Pub Club found themselves busy every week making posters and badges for the important sports events during the year. They also made the "door" through which the basketball team entered before the games, helped decorate for sports banquet, helped the Leaders' Club Canned Food Drive, and sponsored dances and bake sales during the year.

The badge and poster committees each met weekly, while joint meetings were held twice a semester. To join Pub Club, members had to try out by making a pep poster. The posters were judged by previous members and then invitations were issued to qualifying persons to join for the remainder of their high-school years.

"I think that we benefit the student body by stirring up enthusiasm towards athletic events, and the teams by showing our interest to them" were the words of President Suzy Spies. Her fellow officers included Janet Hennessey, vice-president; Debbie Green, secretary; Linda Powers, treasurer, and Marilyn Pratt, social chairman. The adviser was Hugh Stumbo.

French Club

If one should ask a member of French Club, "Parlez-vous français?" he would probably reply, "Oui!" If one should ask a member of French Club if the club meetings were varied and enjoyable, the reply would probably be, "Oui! Oui! Oui!" for entertainment at the monthly meeting can range anywhere from a rousing game of "Bingo" (pronounced "Bang-O" in French) to skits complete with costumes and sets.

The main project undertaken this year by "Le Circle Francais" was a Christmas party. With their parents for an audience, the members related the Christmas story.

According to president Kathy Henney, the purpose of French Club is "to provide its members with the opportunity to hear and speak French in an informal atmosphere."

Open to any past or present French student, the club gives its members increased language experience and a better understanding of the French people.

Officers for the year were Kathy Henney, president, Judy Rawe, secretary, Peggy Erb, treasurer, Nancy Reiber, first vice-president; Arlita Burnett, second vice-president and Susie DeLor, third vice-president. Mrs. Elizabeth Clifford and Miss Lorita Ewing served as advisers for the year.

Spanish Club

"Ole, amigo, watch where you swing that stick! The pinata is up there! Anyone who is a non-member of Spanish Club is probably a little baffled by what is going on here. But a member would immediately understand because the purpose of Club El Dorado is to promote and create an understanding of the customs in Spain and the Latin American countries.

To benefit underprivileged children, they sold UNICEF Christmas cards. Enough were sold to provide milk for 4500 children. Selling Golden Bear ballpoint pens was another money-making project.

Club El Dorado, led this year by Ned Bennett, president; Mary Jane Powell, vice-president; Carol Lieberman, secretary, Connie Salzgeber, treasurer; and Miss Judith Whitney, adviser, is open to anyone who is studying Spanish.

Inter Nos

A Roman style show and a party for prospective advanced Latin students highlighted the activities of Inter Nos this year. Another big event was a trip for all members to the state convention of the Junior Classical League.

Under the leadership of president Dennis Fales and adviser Margrett C. Schultz, Inter Nos presented a movie; participated in Latin Week by wearing badges, writing essays for the Columbus Latin Club contest, and placing posters around school publicizing Latin Week; sold mittens, which members made, at football games; and held monthly meetings designed to further the club's ideals.

The purpose of the club is to further the classical languages and the classical mode of thinking in such a way as to make it enjoyable to the members and also to other students. The fulfillment of this purpose in the past years and the activeness of Arlington's J. C. L. club was cited as one of the reasons for the presentation of the famous Hildesheim Vase by the Ohio Classical Conference this year.

The other officers of Inter Nos were Sandy Smith, vice-president; Pat Hennessey, secretary; Dick Kinney, treasurer; Dave Greegor, guard; and Mary Cravens, representative to Leaders' Club.

Charm Club

One of the highlights of the social calendar each year is Charm Club's annual Goldiggers' Dance. This year was no exception; Charm Club presented its Goldiggers' Dance February 6 in the cafeteria.

Providing sparkle to the social calendar in other ways, the Charm Club girls also presented an open-house after the Preview game, a mothers' tea, a fashion show, and a spring banquet, where the officers for the following year were announced.

Officers for this year were Candy Eaker, president; Jenny Haymore, vice-president; Susie Hopkins, treasurer; and Gina Robertson, representative to Leaders' Club. Mrs. Betty Woolpert served as club adviser.

Open to any home economics student, Charm Club is not merely a social organization. The club's purpose is to sharpen the girls' awareness of good grooming and to further interest in homemaking.

Charm Club's service project of the year was to provide clothes for teenage girls of the state school. This project coincided with a field trip to the school.

Y-Teens

The spirit of Fantasyland was caught by Y-Teens in their fall dance, Fall Fantasy held at Valley Dale. For the second year Arlington won a trophy for selling the most tickets to this event.

Adventuring into a traditional "something different" were the sophomores who attended Bohemian Soiree, co-sponsored with Hi-Y this spring.

Earlier in the year - August - all girls in the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades were invited to a get-acquainted party at Holiday Hill. This, too, is an annual affair.

The purpose of Y-Teens is one of service. The main service project this year was helping "Medico," Dr. Dooley's project for building hospitals in Asia. The profits from Bohemian Soiree and ten bake sales went to Dr. Dooley. Another service project was the Y-Teens' drive for books, which were sent overseas.

Officers this year were Natalie Greene, president; Mary Jo Burt, vice-president; Bev Cronin, secretary; Peggy Erb, treasurer; Susie Dawson, member-at-large; Carol Gump, program chairman; Carol Sain, social chairman; Marcia Manning, service chairman; Karen Walters, publicity chairman; Sue Hague, ways and means; Peg Streeter, worship chairman; and Janet Nitschke, world fellowship chairman. They were given able assistance by adviser, Mrs. Marilyn Howells.

Hi-Y

To provide clean sportsmanship and fellowship for interested junior and senior boys is the purpose of Hi-Y, the only school club which limits its membership exclusively to boys.

A very active club, Hi-Y met twice a month. During their meetings the boys heard speakers, saw movies, and held a joint meeting with Y-Teens, among other things. Participation of members in various sports throughout the year helped them in their goal for clean sportsmanship. The Hi-Y Faculty basketball game provided many laughs for the student body and faculty alike.

The chill night air at the football games was cheerfully braved by hardy members who sold programs to equally hardy fans. Part of the proceeds went towards Hi-Y's service projects.

Acting jointly with Y-Teens, Hi-Y presented the Thanksgiving and Easter assemblies for the student body. Officers were Mike Radcliffe, president; Terry McGuire, vice-president; Bob Young, secretary; Phil Harter, treasurer; Martin Smith, sergeant-at-arms; and Buce Butler, representative to Leaders' Club. William Dudow was the adviser.

F.T.A.

F.T.A. is an organization primarily for those students interested in the field of teaching. This year 127 juniors and seniors were members.

Cadet teaching is F.T.A.'s main project. One hundred ten fellows and girls went to the elementary and junior high schools to participate. The program gives students a chance to spend one period each week in observing and participating in an actual classroom situation. "This experience is a real opportunity for students to see if they are qualified for and interested in teaching before they go to college," said Mrs. Helen Tanner, club adviser. At regular meetings held once a month the club had speakers or films on some phase of teaching.

The club also sponsored a dance, had a clothing drive for the underprivileged in the Tennessee mountains, honored teachers with favors during American Education Week, made Easter favors for patients at Children's Hospital, and gave a tea for teachers working in the cadet teaching program.

This year's officers were Linda Powers, president; Susie Dawson, vice-president; Debbie Green, secretary; Martha Tuttle, treasurer; and Sarah Aplin, representative to Leaders' Club.

F.N.A.

If a girl is seen taking a pulse with her thumb, it will immediately be known that she has no connection with Future Nurses of America. If she had been a member of F.N.A., she would have known that she could only get her own pulse that way.

Future Nurses offers any interested girl a chance to learn about nursing and other allied health occupations. Field trips to Children's Hospital and the blood bank, movies, and speakers in other branches of medicine help these girls decide if they would be happy in the nursing profession. In the future those who choose to become nurses will benefit the entire community. In the meantime they started performing community service by having a Christmas party at the State Hospital. Other projects included sponsoring a chapel program and a dance.

Officers this year were Helga Storz, president; Anne Patterson, vice-president; Suzy Burr, corresponding secretary; Carol Baker, recording secretary; Gail Williams, treasurer; and Judy Graziani, representative to Leaders' Club. Mrs. Mildred Koch is the sponsor.

Question: Which club has no membership requirements and is affiliated with a national service organization? Answer: Junior Red Cross, of course.

Led by Miss Annette Jackson, sponsor, and Jenny Raidt, president, the club fulfilled its purpose of giving aid to those in need by various service projects. They sponsored a choir of young children at the Hannah Neil Mission and gave them a party at Christmas time. In December they caroled for Kinder Key.

Helping the needy indirectly, they assisted in the National Red Cross Drive for funds by collecting money from the students and teachers of the school. They also sponsored a show case which showed what should be kept in a disaster chest.

Besides Jenny and Miss Jackson, other executives in this worthwhile organization were Carol Bearse, vice-president, Libby Baker, secretary, Grace Yoxsimer, treasurer, and Patty Knight, member-at-large to Leaders' Club.

Library Club

A Book Week assembly offering Mr. Eric Solomon of the Ohio State University as speaker was one of the highlights of Library Club's activities this year.

Mainly a club of service, Library Club benefits students and teachers alike by assisting them in the library and checking out books.

A cheerful note pervaded the library at Christmas time because of the tree and decorations put up by club members. They also maintained the bulletin board and the plaque in honor of Arthur McCullough. The biggest service project was the sending of food and books to a girls' orphanage in Greece. Another project was that of reading to mentally retarded children.

Officers for the year were president, Sharon Browning; vice-president, Dave Minor; secretary, Nancy Phillips; and treasurer, Tip Brown. The adviser was Miss Bernice Rea. The only requirements for membership was an active interest in the library and the willingness to assist behind the desk.

Discussion Club

To have free and unlimited discussion in an informal atmosphere is the purpose of Discussion Club. "We feel that by this we can learn and can present our ideas so that each person may evaluate a situation correctly and see both sides of every story," stated president Mary Gruebmeier.

Discussion Club, a newcomer to Arlington, holds its membership open to any student or teacher who has a real interest in discussing the various topics and is willing to do occasional research to gain information for the discussions. Besides their discussions and debates, the members heard several speakers and took field trips on beatnik activities in Columbus during their bi-monthly meetings.

Members discussed anything they felt pertinent to the members and to society at the time. They felt that these discussions gave everyone an opportunity to express his opinions and evaluate the opinions of others.

Cheri Cochran served as secretary for the club and Fred Bunte served as adviser.

Dramatics Club

School doors opened in September and by November 6 the members of Dramatics Club had chosen their first play of the year and had begun to produce it. This first venture into the land of make-believe was Stage Door by Edna Ferber. It ran for two performances on December 4 and 5.

After the curtain was rung down on Stage Door and the members had disposed of their grease paint, the club settled down to routine business matters before selecting and producing another play.

Wielding the gavel this year was Nancy Gerhardt, president, assisted by Bill Casto, vice-president. The club funds were entrusted to Gwyn Baker, treasurer, and Kathy Fouse was chosen secretary. Marty Loyer held the post of sergeant-at-arms and maintained order. Miss Charlotte Kelly served as sponsor.

Drama

A pretty young actress and her frustrating attempts to become a star provided the basic plot for the Dramatics Club's production of Stage Door. The story had moments of hilarity, in the antics of the girls in their boarding house, and tragedy, as one young actress who has no money and no prospect of a job poisons herself.

The leads were played by Nancy Gernhardt and Tom Specht. The production was under the direction of Miss Charlotte Kelly.

At the time that the Norwester went to press, the Dramatics Club had not made any definite decisions concerning future productions.

Student Council

The Student Council is composed of representatives from each homeroom and the presidents of every organization in our school. Its primary purposes are, first, the carrying out of the ideas and suggestions brought up by the individual student and, second, the sponsoring and supporting of projects that work toward the betterment of general school life. Some of these projects, the ones that are handled every year by the Student Council, were publishing of the Student Directories, sponsoring an assembly, holding a Halloween costume dance, running the elections for senior councilmen for Youth-in-Gov't Day and the selection of students to act as teachers on Senior Administration Day. Some behind-the-scenes activities included the rewriting of the rules governing all elections held in the school, the revision of the Student Council constitution and the sending of Student Council members to the spring conference of the Ohio Association of Student Councils and to the Student Council workshop at Ohio University in Athens.

Some ideas put into effect for the first time were the operation of a complete Student Store, an exchange open-house with another high school, the sponsoring of a "Spring Fever Day," and the sending of six students to a high school in Kent, Ohio, for one week. A Student Handbook was also written and will be distributed next year.

With an adviser such as Paul Gatsch, the members of Student Council were able to learn through personal experience, a fact for which the members of Student Council are grateful.

"YOU DON'T HAVE TO BE CRAZY TO WORK HERE BUT IT HELPS."

The selection of the staff was completed by the end of the school year 1958-1959, and our first meetings were held the following summer. The first thing we had to do was to select a theme and Steve and Dennis obliged us by submitting the Fales-Boley plan, however, this was discarded when Miss Randall suggested Disneyland.

We were all excited about our new theme and everyone had ideas on how to adapt it to the Norwester. The ideas were coordinated and there were no major problems until it was time to select a color for the cover. Then we found ourselves divided into the "red faction," the "turquoise faction," and the conservatives, the "black faction." Life became peaceful again when, with the help of our cover salesman and John Goodman, our company adviser, we decided on the cover you are holding in your hands.

Ahead of us was the momentous task of coordinating pictures, copy, and make-up designs into an organized book, and, not to be daunted, we forged ahead. At this time one of the most frequent phrases heard at Wednesday afternoon meetings was "Has anyone seen Mr. Hildreth? That picture was scheduled for tonight." Janet was never found separated from her senior picture appointment book and you could always hear her saying, "If you see John today, will you tell him to make an appointment to have his picture taken."

Supplementing the money from the class treasury was Steve's many money making projects. Not the least among these was the "coaster project." We all spent several afternoons at the shopping centers trying to sell coasters with the school crest on them to the residents of Arlington. The last package was sold and everyone rejoiced.

Steve's next project was a white elephant sale. Every senior was to bring a white elephant and Mr. Will said we could hold the sale in his room if we had all the advertising in by Thanksgiving. The sale was held in Miss Randall's room, and every staff member ended up with at least one white elephant.

The next months were spent in meeting deadlines, but they too had their harrowing moments, such as the time we sent in our first sixteen pages and they were returned because one page number was wrong.

After the book was finished we began work on the supplement. It is now in the hands of the printer and we, the staff, present to you the 1960 Norwester!

The Arlingtonian

Vol. XXI No. 16

Mr. Lutz Guides Business Staff

Although the Arlingtonian has made its jokes at his expense (Elvis Lutz hit at rock'n roll show), there was not a member of the staff who was unaware of the valuable service that Mr. Ellis Lutz performed.

As business adviser he guided the staff in the making of monetary decisions. Since school papers have a propensity toward the red side of the ledger, he holds a time-consuming position.

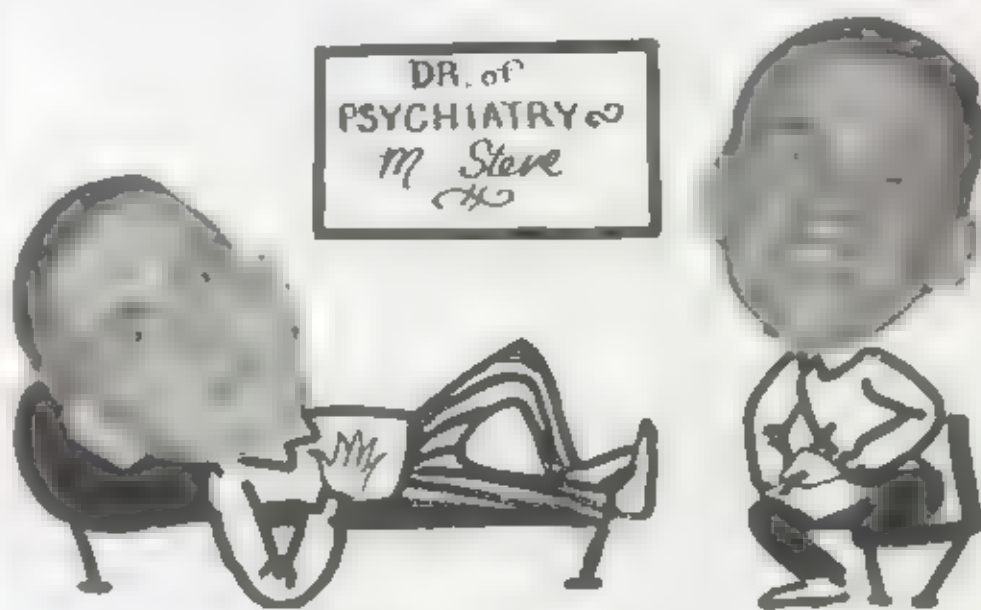

Anyone who has seen Mr. Lutz in room 109 at noon must have wondered how he had time to do anything but sell paperback books to students hungry for knowledge, and it did seem miraculous that he could teach English, and aid the Arlingtonian too.

Sandy Kabealo

Kabealo Is Busy, Busy Student

Sandy Kabealo is one of those girls with a hand in just about everything. She was assistant editor of the Arlingtonian, president of the Newcomers' Club, a member of Quill and Scroll, Leaders' Club, A.C.E., G.A.A., Charm Club, F.T.A., Norwester business staff, and Student Council. Needless to say, she didn't have an abundance of spare time. She strove for efficiency and improvement of methods in her work on the Arlingtonian.

Fred Tarbox and Steve Boley

Fred, Steve Tackle Arlingtonian's Problems

Being editor-in-chief means that one must know, not just a little bit, but a lot about every aspect of publishing a paper. Being associate editor means that one probably knows almost as much as the editor-in-chief.

Fred Tarbox and Steve Boley often found that at one time or another they had to serve in every possible capacity. In addition to these duties they also made the necessary arrangements for changing printers, attended meetings for editors and other such functions.

Fred has served as editor of several publications. His first position was on the Cub Reporter in its first year at the junior high. He has also edited The Achiever, a bimonthly newspaper of Junior Achievement of Columbus. So he was well qualified for his position this year. He was also a member of Quill and Scroll.

Steve, who plans a career in journalism, was also well qualified for his position. He, too, worked on the Cub Reporter as first page editor. He has won several honors for his writing. During his junior year he served the Arlingtonian in many capacities, which gave him a good background for his work this year. He is a member of Quill and Scroll.

Fred and Steve decided to begin this year the right way. They planned to have the first issue of the paper come out the day school started. All staff members were notified and a meeting was held. A record was established.

News Briefs

Awards in the Ohio State Lantern contest were won by Steve Boley, Sue Bolles, Mimi Harmon, John Kessler, Ray Roop, Marcia Smith, Sandy Smith, Helga Storz, and Dona Szedlak. Four of these were first-place awards, four were for second place, and one was for third.

A trophy for feature writing was won by Marian Tipton in the Central Ohio Press Club contest. Bobby Butcher won a second place in the news writing department, and Marcia Manning took a third place in feature writing.

Sophomore Art Scott won the stereophonic record player in the Arlingtonian drawing.

Mr. Berry's homeroom, 10-3, was the first one to reach 100% subscription. This is the third consecutive year that Mr. Berry's homeroom has come in ahead of all the others.

Arlingtonian Has Su Hi-Fi Campaign Awa

The Arlingtonian could hardly help feeling that this has been a very successful year. The staff was chosen by a new method devised by Miss Fry. To select the person best suited to each position a project was required to demonstrate ability in a particular field. Candidates for editor-in-chief did research in various fields pertinent to the editorship. The class voted to determine the new leader.

To add interest to the subscription campaign, the Arlingtonian awarded a record album to a new subscriber each day of the drive. The campaign was highlighted by the awarding of a stereophonic record player during the annual assembly. The assembly was a triumph with

Business Staff Mem Sell And Mail

The bulk of the money headaches fell on the shoulders of Dave Daly. He studied various prospects of the paper and made suggestions on how to economize.

Carol Shook, advertising manager, was responsible for ad layouts each issue. She also sold ads to interested persons during the year after the initial campaign was completed.

The journalism staff and students brought home nine prizes in the Lantern's contest for high school writers. Marian Tipton won a trophy for feature writing in the high-school press club contest. Bobby Butcher and Marcia Manning won second and third places respectively.

True, the meetings had their moments of bedlam and absolute panic, and at times they resembled a small-scale gang war. But despite this a first-class paper was presented to the students bi-weekly. Maybe we'll all meet again -- but possibly next time it'll be on the staff of the New York Times.

office had a tendency to be a catch-all for half the school. "Herrie tried to find 'a place for everything.'" She also compiled a file of papers beginning with those of a few years ago.

Barb Riddle was exchange and mailing editor. She sent a copy of the paper to each school on the mailing list every issue, also to retired teachers, and graduates who subscribed. Linda Grubba was her assistant.

Bear Growls

Meetings are better than ever: one journalism student said, "Did you guys really stay until eleven? Hats, if I'd known I would have come back."

It is rumored that during meetings more coffee was consumed by Sandy Kabealo, Don Porter, Marian Tipton, and Dana Gire than any four other people in the city of Columbus.

Fred Tarbox enjoyed making many new friends at the September journalism convention at O. S. U.

Members of the staff sometimes find it necessary to remind Steve Boley that it isn't nice to tear up galley proofs.

Contretemps of the year: The first day of the subscription campaign when the certificate for a record album at George Zeisler's was won by Jill Zeisler.

Sally Seifert may demand that she be sent to Katherine Gibbs if she must constantly work as a typist

Miss Roberta Fry, Advisor

MISS FRY IS ABLE ADVISER

All journalism students immediately recognize "If all else fails, try following directions," as the motto of Miss Roberta Fry. It is typical of her easy wit and quick sense of humor.

Not only was she the advisor, she was a headline-writer, a source of inspiration for features, an originator of editorials, and chief copyreader. One must be rather versatile to advise the Arlingtonian.

She began her career in journalism at the age of five by selling original poems to her relatives. She was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University and has held positions on various publications since then. She began teaching at Upper Arlington in 1958

Whaddya mean the swimming story is only forty words long? It has to be at least 125."

No seven people in the world made more noise than five page editors and two photo editors. The seven in this case were Winnie Gerber and Joan Smith, photo editors; Sally Seifert, page one editor; Patty Hooze page two editor; Marian Tipton, page three editor; Don Porter and Bob Hoge, page four editors.

Joan and Winnie were responsible for planning each picture that appeared in the paper. They made arrangements with Terry Pletcher, the photographer, regarding the time and place that each picture was to be taken. Then they saw that each one was cropped and scored according to the specifications of the page editor.

Disneyland's sound effects were once again provided by the band and orchestra this year.

Band members didn't wait for school to start to get ready for the marching season; instead, they combined fun and work in a week at Big Brothers' Camp in the Hocking Hills. Once school started, all efforts were concentrated on the half-time programs which the band put on at all the football games

The band members' marching wasn't confined to the football field, however; many an evening was spent trekking the streets of Arlington in an effort to sell The World's Finest Chocolate.

Outside engagements for the band included a trip to Circleville for the annual Pumpkin Show and playing for the United Nations celebration in downtown Columbus. Back at school, band members played in the Spring Con-

The school's dance band had a full schedule of playing engagements this year. Besides playing for a number of school functions such as dances, they participated in several out-of-school affairs. The dance band entered a contest against other bands in the city in March and attended a spring musical production at Ohio State. Back at school, the dance band participated in the Spring Concert.

"Bali Ha'i" called the Senior Concert Choir to the exotic South Pacific this year. Rogers and Hammerstein's Broadway smash was chosen to carry on the tradition of presenting a major musical every two years. The members of the cast were under the capable direction of Herbert Yenser, Lance Shreffler, Robert Ginther, and Miss Charlotte Kelly. Between March 28 and April 2, six audiences were delighted by the romance of Nelie Forbush, portrayed by Candy Eaker, Fifi Reider, and Debbie Page, and Emile de Becque, depicted by Jim Todhunter, Bill McBee, and Jim Lloyd.

The weeks of hard work will be repaid with years of happy memories. In years to come members of the cast will be overcome by a wave of nostalgia when they hear "Dites-Moi," "Happy Talk," "Honey Bun," "There Is Nothing Like a Dame," "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Out of My Hair," "Bloody Mary," and "Younger Than Springtime." And spectators will long remember the thrill of seeing someone suddenly transformed from a classmate to a romantic Frenchman who is singing "Some Enchanted Evening," to a lovely native girl who is in love with a handsome lieutenant.

The residents of Arlington's Disneyland once again scored high in the Senior Scholarship Test administered in January. The test was taken by those seniors in the upper 40 per cent of the senior class of each high school in Ohio.

The test covered five basic areas: English, mathematics, history, and reading and language.

Of the 134 Arlington seniors who took this test, 110 placed above the 50th percentile in the state and 24 above the 90th percentile. Fifty-nine Arlington seniors placed in the upper 25 per cent in Franklin County, while 27 placed in the upper 10 per cent in the district, and 12 in the upper 5 per cent in the state. Arlington received 18½ per cent of the certificates given in the country.

Karen Leininger placed 5th in Franklin County, 1st for girls in the district, and 15th for girls in the state.

Bruce Erickson received honorable mention in the county, placed 16th for boys in the district, and received honorable mention in the state.

Dick Schafer placed 21st for boys in the district, and received honorable mention in the county and state.

Pat Hennessey placed 20th for girls in the district, and received honorable mention in the county and state.

Doug Hale, Ken Wheeler, Margie LeCureux, Bill Lowther, Jim Todhunter, Don Aue, Phil Harter, and Fred Tarbox received honorable mention in the county, district, and state.

To most journalism students the joy of working on a newspaper is reward enough for the time and effort involved, but another award is given to outstanding journalists each year in the form of election to Quill and Scroll, international honorary fraternity.

To be considered for this award a student must have had a specified number of column inches of his writing appear in the Arlingtonian or have done equivalent work in another field. In addition he must be in the upper one-third of his class and he must be certified by the club's adviser, Miss G. Ellen Mann.

A candlelight induction ceremony was held March 24 for the new members in the Little Theatre of the high school. This ceremony was conducted by the senior members who had been initiated the preceding year.

Officers of Quill and Scroll for 1960 were Diane Locey, president; Ann Loscocco, vice-president; Patty Hooze, secretary; Bob Hoge, treasurer; and Steve Boley, representative to Leaders' Club.

Seventeen members of the class of 1960 wore the National Honor Society torch during the school year 1959 to 1960, and in the spring fifty-two new members were chosen. These students were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. In order to be eligible for membership, seniors must be in the upper twenty per cent of their class and juniors in the upper ten per cent. The teachers then rate the candidates in leadership, character, and service, and finally five per cent of the junior class and ten per cent of the senior class are chosen to be installed in the local chapter of the national organization.

The working core of the society, the seventeen seniors who were selected as juniors, was headed this year by Susie DeLor, president; Janet Nitschke, vice-president; and Debbie Green, secretary-treasurer.

The Honor Society's continuing project is the operation of a paperback book service through which more than four thousand books each year are sold to the student body. The Society members of 1959-60 recognized the need for expansion of this service and invested their funds in the purchase of new book cases and storage cabinets so that the stock of books could be more easily accommodated and the number of titles increased.

To prophesy an exciting season, the Golden Bears opened up with an exciting preview. Four teams participated with the Bears beating Bexley in the first quarter and pulling out an exciting tie with Grandview in the last quarter. Having seen the Bears in action, we all thought the season looked promising.

At South the next week, Coach Marvin Morehead's boys opened up their season in the right way, winning a thrilling game in the second half, 22-8. The defense, stars for the night, was sparked by Bob Mertie, but our offense, not to be outdone, ran wild.

St. Charles came to our stadium the next week for our home opener. The Cardinals, rated high, were soundly beaten, 22-0. Although there were some individual stars, this was a team victory and our first glimmer of a great season.

Having played two other games, the Bears were well set for the CBL opener with Mt. Vernon on our field. Rated as a CBL crown contender, Mt. Vernon was supposed to be a tough match for the Bears, but our boys came through in fine style, soundly thrashing a strong team 25-8.

Journeying to Delaware the next week, the Bears took on the lowly rated Willis team. Arlington was predicted to walk all over them, and they did just that, trouncing them 34-6.

Homecoming came with Susie Collins reigning as queen and Carol Flick, Cathy Frear, Kathy Fouse, and Patti Rea serving as the court. Queen Susie was escorted by Mike Andes, and Doug Thorne, Jim Turner, Dennis Fales, and Mike Radcliffe were the respective escorts for the court. On the previous night, the junior class had won the float contest. Then on Friday night the Bears took the field against Bezley for our Homecoming game. The Lions were trounced 22-0, and Homecoming spirits were maintained. Afterwards, the senior class presented a wonderful Homecoming dance, and then we all went wearily home.

Next week Worthington came to our stadium with a vaunted passing attack. Turning the tables, the Bears displayed a passing attack of their own and walloped Worthington 49-14.

The following week our boys left Arlington for Urbana to meet a powerful team. Since it was Urbana's Homecoming, their spirit was high for this game. Their spirit and belly-senes proved to be too much for us, and we suffered our first setback 34-20. Despair hung heavily over the halls of U. A.

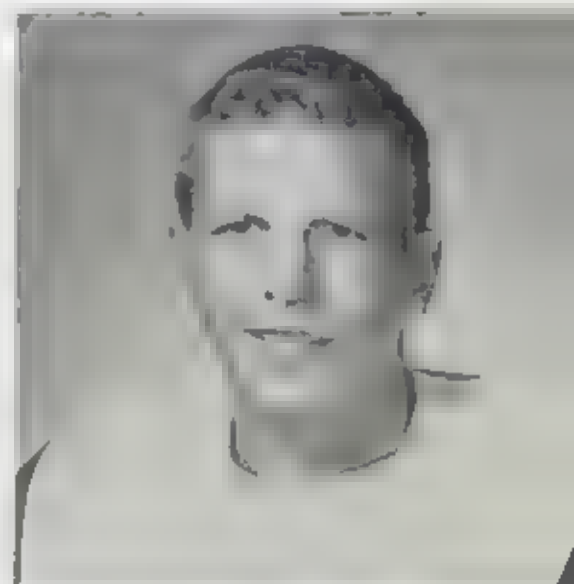

Perhaps the most important game in the season was the one with our old arch-rival, Grandview. Playing the game on our home field, our boys were determined to win. The Bobcats were determined too, perhaps a little more so. They beat us 21-14.

The records of the various CBL teams stocked up like this: If we lost or tied at Whitehall, we would come in second; if we won we would tie for first. As the Bears traveled to Whitehall that week, spirit was high! Our boys took the field and played their hearts out the entire game as in every game this season. We lost a share of the crown in a heartbreaker, a 0-0 tie.

Although the records may suggest a different story, to the students of Upper Arlington High School, the Golden Bear football team was the greatest in the nation.

Perhaps the biggest surprise of the fall sports season was the high caliber of our reserve football team. The reserve Bruins went through their entire season undefeated, posting a commendable record of seven wins, no losses, and no ties. The reserves were blessed with many fine players who contributed to the team's outstanding success. Under the fine leadership of Coach James Burke, the reserve Bears played in such good form and posted such an enviable record that we may all be extremely proud of them. It will be a tremendous asset, indeed, to our future varsities to possess players of such a caliber as were present in this year's reserve football team.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Spectacular is a fitting word to describe our cross-country team of 1959. Steve Markwood and Ron Koch, the co-captains selected by their teammates to lead the team, took them down a glorious path. For the first time in the history of the cross-country team, the district champion and perennial state threat, Worthington, was beaten by our boys. Les Heitger established and re-established continually the school record for the two-mile run throughout the season. Coach Richard Larkin was understandably pleased with the action of this year's team.

The student body and the Norwester staff salutes the fine work of the cross-country team and entertains big hopes for seasons to come.

Basketball

Spectators, fans, and team alike enjoyed this year's basketball season. Thrilling and exciting as it was, however, it was dotted by those ever-present ups and downs. The boys did a fine job, finishing in second place in league competition and losing out to a strong Grove City team in the second round of the District Tournament.

The boys opened their season with a good omen -- a victory. Gahanna Lincoln was handled on our home floor, 76-67. Jack (The Giant) Newlon contributed 23 points to the cause and the season seemed to loom expectantly for the Bear cagers.

Later, opening league competition, the boys took on Delaware on Willis' home court. It was quite a game, but the Golden Bears lost their important opening game by one point.

Perhaps the most joyous three-quarters of basketball in the year's history was played at Urbana on December 19. The Bears led the Hillclimbers by eight points going into the last quarter, but still couldn't quite take the Hillclimbers, who went on to grab thirteen straight. One of the other twelve was another victory over the Golden Bears on their home floor February 5, as they walked away with the Bears, 74-47.

To forget the first Grandview game of January 5 is impossible for any Arlington student. It was a hard-fought game all the way, and the lead changed hands many times, but the Bruins finally caught it for good and won 78-70.

The basketball game at Whitehall was very similar to the football game -- a much-disputed loss. The Bears took note for the future, however, and came back on February 13 to trounce the Rams on our home floor, 75-49.

January 6 and 22 yielded two victories for the Bears on their home floor. One was from the boys of Delaware and the other from Mt. Vernon.

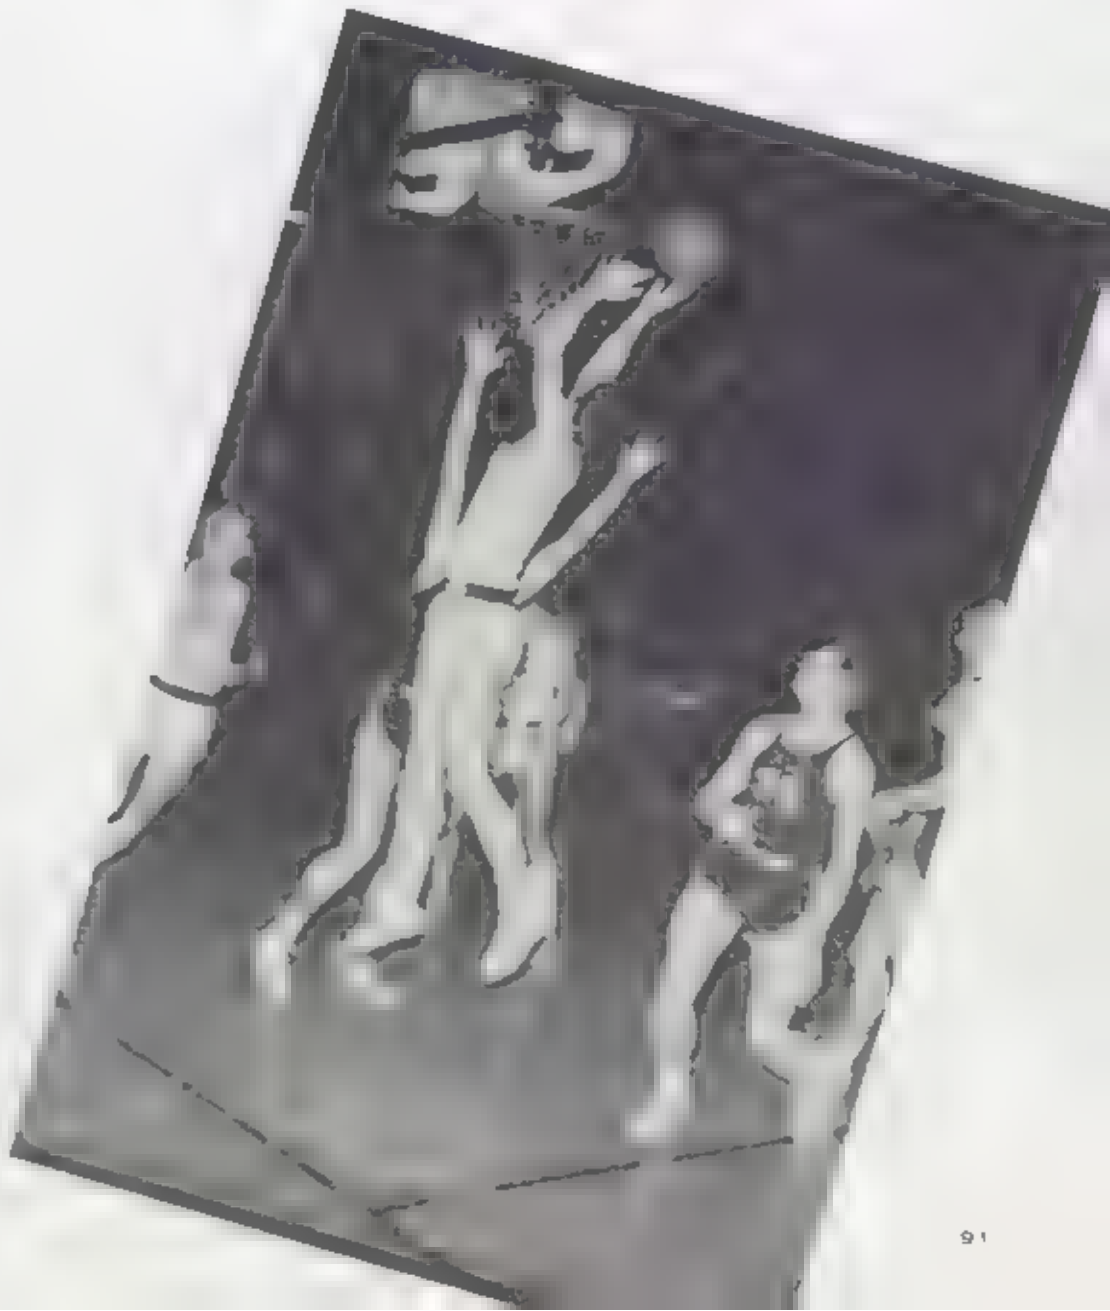

On January 23 the boys journeyed to Shaker Heights to participate in the unique sports carnival there. They were poor guests, however, as they took two to three events and went home.

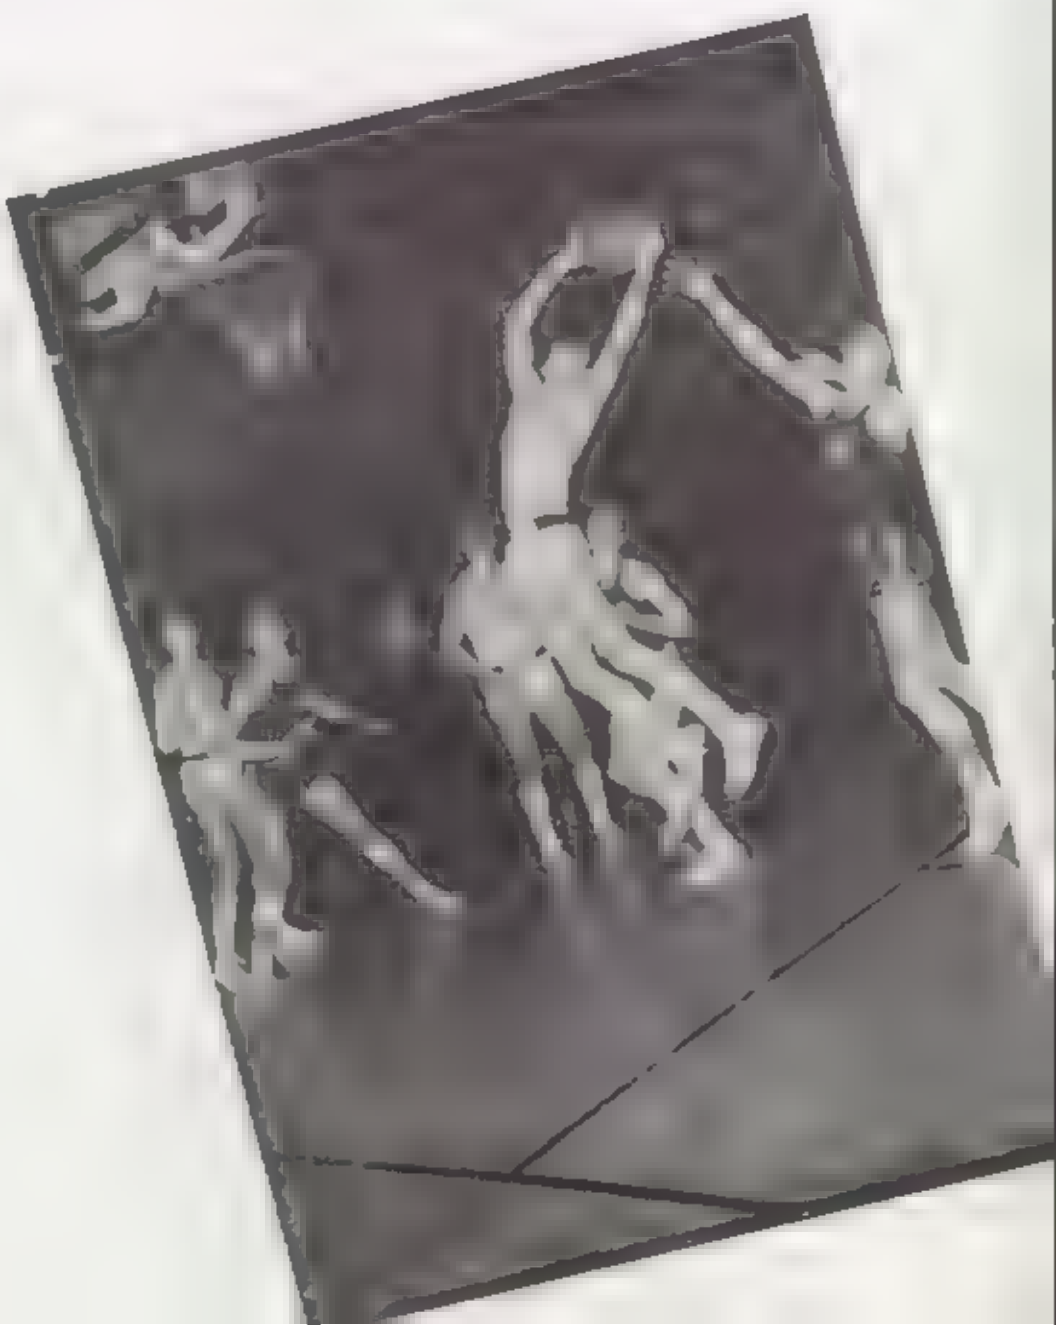

The cagers finally finished out a long season against Mt. Vernon on their court. It had been several years since Arlington had beaten Mt. Vernon on their home floor, but we did this year and ended our season on a happy note, 82-75.

The yearbook staff and advisers wish to congratulate the basketball team for a splendid showing this year and thank them for the thrills they gave us!

SWIMMING

Arlington has always had reason to be very proud of its swimming team. It is always one of the top teams in the State and makes itself known far and wide.

This year was no exception to previous ones. The boys took the city relays for the fifth straight year, the District Championship for the seventh straight year, and third place in the State behind Lakewood and nationally powerful Canton-McKinley -- a real accomplishment in anybody's book.

Enjoying many fine individual stars, the tankers were proud to acknowledge the accomplishments of Jack Hollenbeck, who set a new district record in the hundred-yard freestyle; Dave Daly, in the hundred-yard breaststroke; and the medley relay team of Heer, Daly, Hollenbeck, and Smith that won the State in that event.

The future of U. A.'s tanker teams looks very bright, indeed. Congratulations to this year's team for a fine job and best of luck to those teams to come.

The wrestling team, under the leadership of Coach Tom Baldacci, enjoyed a very successful season and gave Arlington many reasons to cheer and be proud. Four of the boys placed in the district meet with Harvey Stewart taking first in the 165-lb. class, Jake Baas, second in the 175-lb. class, Clyde Mummert, third in the 138-lb. class, and Kurt Von Maur, third in 154-lb. class.

The team enjoyed a very successful dual meet season, giving all a big thrill by defeating powerful Whitehall in perhaps the upset of the year and one of the team's finest hours. We placed fourth in the District, and Harvey

Stewart garnered fifth in the State to complete our regional-type honors.

Perhaps the biggest blow to the team early in the year was the loss of Co-captain Jon Agee because of illness. It was a severe blow to the team, but it still managed to distinguish itself. Congratulations to the coach and team for a highly successful season.

G.A.A. offered something different to Arlington this year in their Co-Rec. Night. The boys and girls played basketball, volleyball, badminton, and shuffleboard together, and the high point of the evening was the crabwalk races between classes. Since this evening was a tremendous success, G.A.A. hopes it will become a school tradition. As usual, hockey, basketball, volleyball, baseball, tennis, bowling, golf, swimming, and archery were offered to all girls who wished to participate. Also, the club sponsored the annual "Bermuda Ball." In the spring awards were presented at the Sports Banquet to outstanding members.

Sports Chairman

Carol Von Haam

As overseer of girls' sports, Carol Von Haam, did an excellent job this year. She saw that every sport in which the girls were interested was offered and that each activity progressed satisfactorily.

Hockey

Marcia Manning

The hockey team enjoyed a very successful season this year with Marcia Manning calling the signals. She was in charge of scheduling the games and getting officials. Playing on the Ohio State hockey field, practicing in the rain, and dining at the Explorer's Club were unforgettable moments.

Volleyball

Mimi Lowery

This year intramural volleyball had tremendous enthusiasm and participation. Mimi Lowery helped Mrs. Jane Wilson set up a tournament schedule and every team got to play at least two games. Of course, a senior girls' team captured the spotlight by winning the tournament.

Heads Sports

Basketball

Cathy Frear

Arlington's female "globetrotters," led by Cathy "Jerry Lucas" Frear, bounced their way through a 8-1 season. Practice was frequent and spirit was high -- in fact, it was so high that Ann Loscocco broke two bones in her foot.

Bowling

Carolyn Evans

This year 58 teams participated in bowling at Scioto Lanes. Each team was allowed to bowl two games either Tuesday or Thursday of each week. Carolyn Evans handled the financial affairs.

Swimming

Sherry Fishel

Sherry Fishel acted as a handy-man this year. She took the girls' swimming and skating besides helping Mary Jo Burt on refreshments.

Baseball

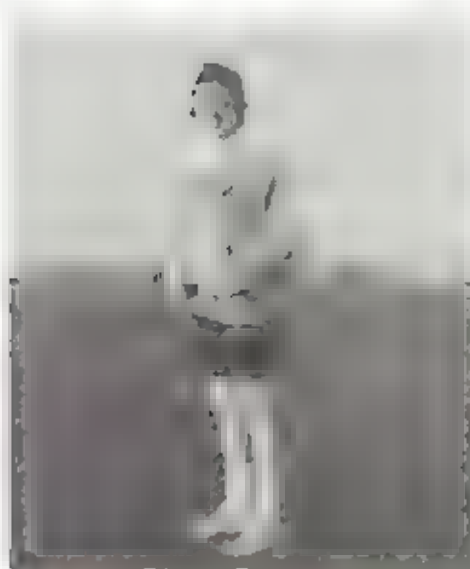

Karen Hobbs

Softball, the G.A.A. version of the All-American sport, was actively pursued by the club members under the leadership of Karen Hobbs. She helped set up the teams and scheduled the games at Northam Park.

Sports Heads

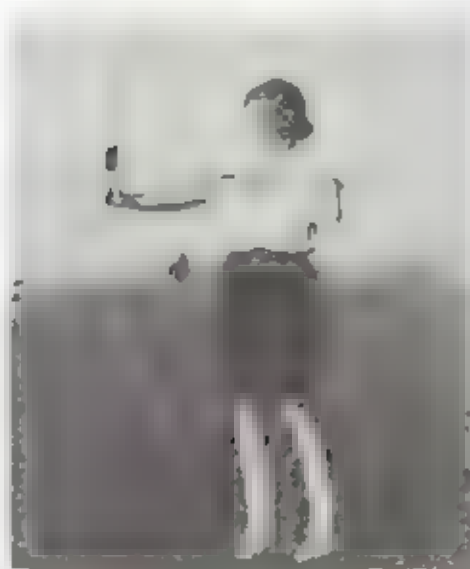

Tennis

Kathy Frost

The G.A.A. tennis enthusiasts certainly took advantage of Arlington's new courts in playing their matches. Kathy Frost was in charge of setting up matches and guiding tennis hopefuls.

Archery

Betsy Dawson

Strangers may have confused Arlington with Sherwood Forest when G.A.A. archers were practicing their skills, but Betsy Dawson, alias Robin Hood, was just giving the girls pointers and keeping track of the points they scored.

Golf

Pat Taylor

Pat Taylor gave all prospective G.A.A. golfers valuable tips this spring as they practiced in the field behind the high school and at Dodge Driving Range.

After three strenuous try-outs, the 28 members of the 1959 Varsity and Reserve hockey teams were chosen by Coach Jane Wilson and sports head Marcia Manning. The girls practiced after school three times a week and both teams defeated St. Mary's 1-0 in their first game, October 15. The next week Arlington was host to Worthington which relieved our teams since the grass on their field is a foot high and makes the ball difficult to hit. Both teams tied, the varsity 3-3 and the reserves 1-1. Bexley traveled to Arlington on October 26 and proved to be too much for our girls with the varsity losing 0-1 and the reserves losing 0-2. The team decided its defeat was due to over-confidence since it had just beaten Bexley in football. The varsity lost 0-1 and the reserves won 1-0 in muddy battles against C.S.G. on their field November 5. The University game was a treat because it was played on Ohio State's hockey field and both teams were victorious. But the last game at Grandview was the highlight of the season since both teams beat our arch rival 1-0.

A wonderful season was topped off by a banquet at the Explorer's Club where the seniors were awarded participation certificates.

Competition was just as stiff as usual for positions on the 1960 G.A.A. basketball teams, but after two weeks of strenuous practice the players were chosen.

For their first game the girls traveled to Gahanna Lincoln and both teams won, the Varsity 50-38 and Junior Varsity 26-22. Grandview was host to Arlington the following Saturday morning when both teams split in two for a total of four games. The Varsity A won 28-22, the Varsity B lost 22-23 and both junior teams won 21-17 and 20-10. Next, Arlington was host to Bexley and both teams won by good margins. The North games played at Arlington were split with the Varsity winning 23-15 and the Junior Varsity losing 9-11, but the Junior Varsity made up for their defeat by beating St. Mary's 37-7 the following week.

The Varsity also won 21-16. For the University game our girls got out of school early and traveled to the opponent's court. In a combined effort they dealt a crushing defeat to University, 77-10. Having won all their games with the exception of Worthington, the Varsity traveled to Worthington for a second try, but they were defeated 24-31.

Coach Jane Wilson was very pleased with the Varsity's record of 6 wins and 2 losses, as was Coach Ann Loscocco with the juniors' record of 5 wins and 2 losses. With the close of the regular season, Candy Eaker and Connie Lynn finished as high scorers for the Varsity, and Sue Nelson for the Junior Varsity.

But the high point of the year was the G.A.A.-Faculty basketball game, which was a tie.

1960 marked the second year of existence of a Reserves basketball team composed of 14 sophomores. Although the girls played only two games, one with Grandview which they won 13-9 and one they tied with University, they feel they have gained valuable experience which will help them make the Junior Varsity next year.

G.A.A. is certainly indebted to Jan Graber, Charlotte Boyd, Mary Lynn Denning, and Shirley Lowe for the fine job they have done in keeping an accurate account of the points, fouls and other information for each game.

This year's sophomores took the giant step into Frontierland, led fearlessly down its paths by Emerson Berry, president; Tom Baker, vice-president; Gayle Beard, secretary; and Noelle Lewis, treasurer, and came out old hands at the high school game. Mrs. Elizabeth Clifford and Richard Berry pointed out the guideposts on the way in their roles as advisers.

With an eye to the future the ambitious sophomores made a good start in fund-raising for such future needs as the Junior-Senior and Norwester. Many bake sales, including a big Christmas one at the shopping centers, and their $100 prize for P.T.A.

memberships, and class dues all went towards this end.

Wandering into the realm of Fantasyland, the sophomores put on a big dance for the school in the spring. And surely it seemed like sheer Fantasy to Art Scott when he won the hi-fi in the Arlingtonian contest.

The sophomores worked hard to decorate Senior Hall for Senior Day, giving a happy send-off to the residents of Tomorrowland. In all facets of Disneyland these young men and women have made their mark. That they do as well in the future is to be expected.

The trip through Adventureland was not an easy one, and at times the end of the trail seemed very distant. But the class of 1961 completed its tour, leaving the path well-marked for future adventurers.

Their markers included their presentation of the Jr.-Sr., headed by Mike Patton and Sarah Hays, selling at football games, and working together on worthwhile projects, such as the flood of 1959. The over-all journey was directed by class officers Bill Anthony, president; Ron Koch, vice-president; Alice Carson, secretary; and Jack Newlon, treasurer.

U.S. AIR FORCE

A black and white photograph showing a large rocket on a launch pad. The rocket is oriented horizontally, with its nose pointing to the right. The words "U.S. AIR FORCE" are visible on the side of the rocket's body. The launch pad structure is visible in the foreground, and the background is a clear sky.

Seniors

One year ago the class of 1960 blasted into its senior year complete with such necessary items as school spirit and ambition. Now they are ready to board the rocket for a one-way trip into Tomorrowland. The last 'A.. Aboard' was sounded at commencement and led by crew members Dave Olin, president; Ned Bennett, vice-president; Susie DeLor, secretary, and Dennis Fales, treasurer, the class waved final good-byes to high school days.

Left behind forever were study halls, detention, absence excuses, and 3:30 bake sales. The perennial senior headache - term papers - were completed long ago and diplomas were the passports to another world.

Today

I'm so glad I got to know you this year. I've never had more fun with one girl in all my life and I hope we will be the best of friends in the coming years. Everyone thinks you're a riot, me included. Please stay my good friend because I think so much of you and always have a blast when we're together.

Good luck !!

Barry

Just want to say that I'm all yours and I'll be there for you all the time.
I'll
be there
for you
all the time.
I'll
be there
for you
all the time.

Judy,

This is like last year when I was signing your class picture, I had so much to say but didn't know how.

First of all, remember everything we've done this year like play tennis, decorate for dances, S.R. Hall, and floats, take walks (along with those cool talks), going to football, basketball, and baseball games together (for the reserves), etc;

I'll never forget your encouraging words when things were looking down for me; and it has helped me to look at matters from a more mature angle.

These are all things in the past. There is now the future: our car, our trips, and of course our star. You're really the greatest. Stay just as you are.

Love always,
Louie

Judy - I can say more is this would need more people like you. I will always remember the fun we've had these out year. Never forget skipping choir & Smitty in Biology class. I know our friendship will continue & stay happy
Good luck!

Love,
Benie

Judy,
It's been great knowing you these past few years. I can only say I hope our friendship will continue to grow on the coming high school years. You're a wonderful person & I feel I'm lucky to be your friend. You're always I'll always Love,
Diane

Dear Judy,
 Holly - I was really happy that we were in some classes together this year - choir, Biology + French. Lots of times I have told you my troubles + you were so nice.

Holly Judy,
 I really think so much of you I hope we still stay as good friends as we are now - forever + ever.

Love ya,
 Lynne (50-50)

Goodbye

*Judy, Best of luck to a really cute girl. Remember our biology.
 It's good to have a laugh for a while.*

Judy,
 Gosh! I just don't know where to begin! Tell me, let's see... First of all, I want to thank for playing CUPID!! I'm so glad! I think you're just about the sweetest girl in your grade. I've and considerate of everyone. I really do love you!
 I've really, really enjoyed getting to know you this year.
 I just hope that we can be even closer friends next year! Fourth, I want to congratulate you on your being elected to be officer in your department. I know you'll do a WONDERFUL job. And you'll be a great asset to your personality that I know you'll be.

Love,
 Claudia

Good luck always in Larry Calhoun

Judy -
 you're a swell guy, honestly and maybe this summer we can do a lot of things together.
 Next year can't be as sensational because
 "our seniors" are gone,
 but it will be fun.
 See you this summer,
 until then - loads of luck.

Sherry

Judy -
 I wish you,
 one of the best resist girls I know, all the happiness in the world and you study about Bon Chance!
 Diana

Judy
 to a good bid. Lots of love also

Good luck
 now and in the coming years

Dear Judy,
 I couldn't possibly say all I would like in this little note. I'm so glad we have become such close friends - we seem to have so much to share.
 I hope that at camp we may deepen our friendship - but there is so little time! You have so much to offer, all always understanding and willing to please. You deserve so much happiness!

Love,
 "Sainy"

Dear Judy,
 There isn't too much to say except that I wish you all the luck in the world.
 Love ya always

Good Luck Judy

I'll never forget your laughing spree in Biology

Even when I feel like I can't get on with my school work, I think of you and how much I love you. I'm so glad I got to know you this year. You are a wonderful girl with a cute personality.
 Remember all our drawings & what Steve was. Oh well,
 it was fun!
 Love ya,
 Karen

Hi Judy -
 You are a wonderful girl with a beautiful personality.
 I have had so many good times with you. I wish I was going to camp this year.
 You have everything
 anyone would want.
 "Good Luck!"

Good Luck!!
 I hope I will see you this summer!
 Pam
